Webster Scholarship

History

Funding for the Webster Scholarship comes from an endowment established by the late Charles N. Webster, whose family founded the KONP radio station and the newspaper that is now known as the Peninsula Daily News.

Award Amount

$2,100 divided evenly over fall, winter, and spring quarters. The courses students must take are identified below. If the required course(s) for any quarter add up to less than 5 credits, students must register for additional credits to bring their quarterly credit total up to a 5 credit minimum. If the scholarship isn't used one quarter, the student will lose it for the rest of the year – with the exception of absence due to military service.

Grade point average requirement

Students must maintain a 2.00 cumulative grade point average at Peninsula College. In addition, Communication Studies - Journalism path students must maintain a 3.00 combined grade point average in their Communication Studies - Journalism classes, and Multimedia Communication degree students must maintain a 3.00 combined grade point average in their Multimedia Communication classes.

Enrollment requirement

Students must enroll in the following classes:

Communication Studies - Journalism students:

Must have declared Communication Studies - Journalism as their education track and enroll in either a minimum of 5 credits of Communication Studies – Journalism (CMST) classes or Directed Studies 290-294 approved by Communication Studies – Journalism faculty.

Multimedia Communication students:

Must have declared Multimedia Communication as their education track (coded 524 or 524C) and enroll in either a minimum of 5 credits from the Media Communication graduation checklist each quarter or Directed Studies 290-294 approved by Multimedia Communication faculty.

Failure to maintain all of the requirements may result in the loss of scholarship funds.
